Press Release

Dorothy Rowe: Empowering the Healer Within

“Anyone can awaken their innate healing potential through energy work,” says Dorothy Rowe, a highly-skilled energy healer who offers a systematic understanding of our inner landscape and practical procedures for self-healing. Dorothy believes, “Self-mastery over all aspects of life is the birthright of every person. Now is the time for all people to govern the manifestation process and bring their heart's deepest desires to fruition.”

Dorothy especially enjoys working with spiritually-oriented independent thinkers looking for sustainable, autonomous solutions for their concerns. For those willing to take possession of this knowledge, energy work has a lot to offer. Dorothy's clients range from young adults to seniors. Dorothy makes no claims to be the healer herself. She insists that she “is just a witness to the healing transformations.” Healing is accomplished through each person's unique connection to their Divine Source.

Dorothy says her work reveals the fundamental truth of each person's essential nature as “the manifestation of the eternal Source in an infinitely expanding creation.” Her clients cultivate the skills to produce the results they desire for their health, relationships, and individual growth.

Dorothy's goal is to help as many people as possible enhance their experience of life and become self-sustaining and self-sufficient masters of their own healing process.
